

Housing

For the purposes of the data within this section, according to the U.S. Census Bureau, a housing unit is considered to be a house, an apartment, a group of rooms, or a single room intended for occupancy as separate living quarters while having separate access from the exterior of a building or through a common hall. While units within assisted living facilities are considered to be housing units, rooms or units within nursing homes are not considered to be housing units. For a more specific definition of the term housing unit, please refer to the glossary located on the main webpage of the Databook series.

According to the 2020 American Community Survey, Sullivan County had a total of 50,966 housing units, representing an increase of 3.6%, or 1,750 housing units, from 2010 to 2020. The three towns in Sullivan County experiencing the greatest percent increase in the number of housing units constructed from 2010-2020, respectively, were Fallsburg (24.6%), Rockland (20.5%), and Tusten (19.3%).

Between 2010 and 2020, the number of occupied housing units in Sullivan County declined from 31,599 to 28,762. Over the same period, the number of vacant housing units in the County (excluding those that are only seasonally vacant) increased from 3,377 in 2010 to 5,186 in 2020. On top of that, the amount of seasonally vacant housing units in the County increased from 14,240 in 2010 to 22,204 by 2020.

When comparing occupancy characteristics (owner occupancy versus renter occupancy) to the total amount of occupied housing units in the County between 2010 and 2020, the share of owner-occupied housing units increased from 63.3% to 69.5%, while the share of renter-occupied housing units decreased from 36.7% to 30.5%.

The median home value in Sullivan County in 2010 was $183,800, and by 2020, the median home value in the County had declined to $175,900. In 2020, approximately 4,632 housing units were valued between $200,000 and $299,999, and approximately 4,187 housing units were valued between $80,000 and $149,999. From 2000 to 2020, the amount of new residential construction in Sullivan County has been on a steep decline. From 2000 to 2009, Sullivan County had approximately 6,263 housing units constructed, whereas from 2010 to 2019, the number of housing units constructed in the County had dropped to 1,563, indicating a drastic decline of homebuilding in Sullivan County. From 2000 to 2019, the Town of Fallsburg had the greatest volume of housing construction than any other municipality in the County.

In 2010, the median rent in Sullivan County was $813, and by 2020, the median rent had increased to $886. From 2010 to 2020, the number of tenants who had an average gross- rent between $500 and $749 went from 2,926 tenants in 2010 down to 1,552 tenants having the same average gross-rent in 2020. In 2010, approximately 4,115 tenants in Sullivan County paid an average gross rent between $750 and $999. By 2020, this number had declined significantly to 2,471 tenants, indicating a shift away from mid-range rental costs. In contrast, higher rental brackets showed a different trend: in 2010, only about 469 tenants paid $1,500 or more in gross rent, suggesting that relatively few households occupied the upper end of the rental market at that time. By 2020, this number had increased to approximately 860 tenants paying at least $1,500 per month, reflecting an overall increase in rental costs. As the cost of living has continued to increase, the Census Bureau has expanded its rent categories to reflect current market conditions. The former “$1,500 or more” category has been expanded into two additional categories: $1,500–$1,999 and $2,000 or more.

The U.S Census Bureau counts the number of rooms in a home for the American Community Survey (ACS), by accounting for all of the rooms separated by built-in archways or walls that extend out at least 6 inches and go from floor to ceiling. Include only whole rooms used for living purposes, such as living rooms, dining rooms, kitchens, bedrooms, finished recreation rooms, family rooms, enclosed porches suitable for year-round use, etc.

The number of rooms does not include bathrooms, kitchenettes, strip or pullman kitchens, utility rooms, foyers, halls, open porches, balconies, unfinished attics, unfinished basements, or other unfinished space used for storage.
